The Oklahoma Primary Healthcare Extension System

All Oklahoma CHIOs belong to The Oklahoma Primary Healthcare Extension System (OPHES). Collaboration with OPHES increases visibility, credibility, and access to health related resources beyond those traditionally available to community partnerships and coalitions.

PHIO is a nonprofit organization Oklahoma dedicated to improve health outcomes by providing support to community health organizations.

Connect with us @publichealthok.org Or contact Jill Hazeldine: jill@publichealthok.org

The James W. Mold Oklahoma

Primary Healthcare Improvement Cooperative (OPHIC) was established to coordinate dissemination, implementation, and diffusion of evidence-based information and methods relevant to primary healthcare in Oklahoma.

The TU

Health Care Delivery Sciences seeks ways to principles to solve today's most challenging care delivery issues.

Contact: Laura Ross-White: lmr3281@utulsa.edu

потъвті Certified County Health Improvement Organizations

Strengthening the Provider, to Improve Health: Providers in Your CHIO Involving Health Care

health care delivery system. reinforcing the need for a collaborative existing work of your coalition by health care providers enhances the communities message. Partnering with CHIO activities strengthens your involving health care providers in your cannot be accomplished alone, Improving the health of a population

This approach allows for a unified, research and health promotion projects. providers on academic, medical based collaboratively with health care coalitions the opportunity to work membership of community-based CHIO Certification provides the health care challenges at the local level.

Through Your CHIO: Community Relationship

community specific approach to solving

What other types of groups are involved in CHIOs?

pecome one? What is a CHIO and how do we strategies at a local level. indicators to advance health equity through evidence-based practices and partnerships. Coalitions receiving CHIO certifications utilize their county's health collaboration through their collaborative work and strategic alignment of CHIO certifications are granted to coalitions meeting enhanced standards for certification process is facilitated by the Public Health Institute of Oklahoma. A CHIO is a certification for your new or existing community-based coalition, the # benefit your community? How does CHIO certification

- and retain healthcare providers within the community funding • County-based initiatives and teamwork • Enhanced ability to attract through partnerships with healthcare providers • Increased access to available Linkage to opportunities which have a larger impact on community health
- results consistent delivery system for preventative services • Fewer meetings and better regarding best practices • Ability to provide greater emphasis on and more assistance • Access to experts and information on a variety of healthcare topics Local learning opportunities Performance monitoring and feedback to become a CHIO? ob ot been ytinummoo What does your

Scan to access the CHO Readiness Assessment Tool